Dance Marathon

On March 11th, 2022, students from Wellington High School and the University of Florida hosted Dance Marathon. Dance Marathon at Wellington High School is an annual philanthropic event that benefits Children's Miracle Network and Shands Children's Hospital located in Gainesville and provides participating students interaction with miracle families, games, and a fun uplifting night. Wellington High School students have been working to fundraise this school year for Dance Marathon as profits go directly to treatments, equipment, and other medical supplies for kids at Shands Children's Hospital.

Dance Marathon at Wellington High School is proud to announce that students raised a total of $40,550.41 this year! This incredible amount of money raised could not have been accomplished without the dedication of our students, parents, WHS faculty, WHS staff and local sponsors. Dance Marathon at Wellington High School would like to recognize our local sponsors who so graciously donated food, time, and money to support Children's Miracle Network.

Speech & Debate

The first week of March was an amazing experience for members of the Wellington Speech & Debate Team.

At the Florida Forensics League State Championship in Orlando March 5-6, senior Jaiden Lagalo-Blinston advanced to the semifinal round of Dramatic Interpretation, and senior Samuel Johnson to the semifinal round of Domestic Extemporaneous Speaking. Earlier in the week, 11 members of the Red Dawn Debaters competed in the R. Fred Lewis High School Mock Trial Competition at the Palm Beach County Courthouse. It was first time Wellington was represented at the district Mock Trial competition.

But, wait! There's more! Wellington had a phenomenal day at the Southeast Florida Civics & Debate Initiative #2 tournament at Martin County High School in late February. Roughly 30 first- and second-year Red Dawn Debate students competed in a dozen events, and the team left the Stuart school, with a large number of accolades. In Congressional Debate, Alexandra Versailles took first in her chamber, Addison Kurz second, both Page Segal and Emma Gardner fourth, and Patrick McDermott fifth. In Lincoln Douglas Debate, Paula Currea finished first. In Declamation, Ana Guillaume placed first and Olivia Winton second. Guillaume also took first in Original Oratory. Anneliese Leclef placed first in Dramatic Interpretation, while Chiara Milazzi finished first in Informative Speaking. Simran Josan and Liam Stines took the top two spots in Extemporaneous Speaking, and Colin Gibson placed first in Impromptu Speaking. In Oral Interpretation, Hannah Pahl placed first, Madison Neltner second, Danielle Beaulieu fifth and Andreanna Wellington sixth. Karola Ortiz Rodriguez finished second in Program Oral Interpretation, and the Public Forum Debate team of Bailen Theriault and Hendrix Socha finished fourth.

In early February, members of the debate program attended the Forum Club of the Palm Beaches' luncheon, where they heard keynote speaker Brian Lamb, Global Head of Diversity, Equity and Inclusion at JPMorgan Chase & Co. Two members of the program – seniors Jaiden Lagalo-Blinston and Carolina Aguilera-Garza - asked questions of Lamb regarding federal student loan forgiveness proposals and blockchain technology, in terms of how they pertain to minority graduates and underserved communities.

At the January PBCFL tourney at Seminole Ridge High School, three students - Bella Tombari, Ewa Tryniszewski, and Emma Gardner each took home gavels as the top Presiding Officer in their Congressional Debate chambers, while Gardner took sixth place overall in her chamber. In Declamation, Olivia Winton placed second. Extemporaneous Speaking saw Samuel Johnson take first and Colin Gibson finish third. Hannah Pahl placed second in Oral Interpretation, while Madison Neltner placed sixth.

News from the Visual Art Department

"Logic will get you from A to Z; imagination will get you everywhere"

–Albert Einstein

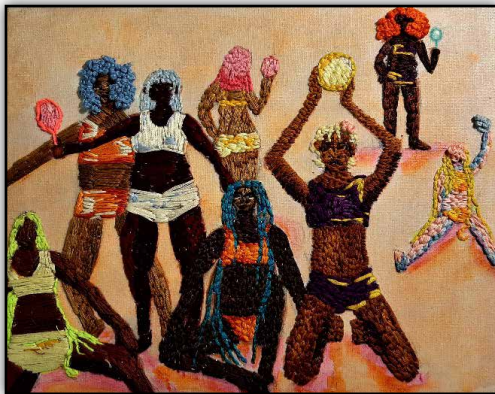

If you think outside the "traditional" art careers, like painters and sculptors, there are actually a lot of career opportunities. Artistic skills open the door to many interesting careers in demand. Artists have a unique ability to dream, envision, inspire, and imagine new possibilities. They bring a fresh perspective along with a willingness to experiment and disrupt the status quo. Many fast-growing occupations tap these skills. Diverse fields ranging from art therapy to cinematography, even engineers see direct benefit in possessing artistic skills, according to the National Society of Professional Engineers.

Film & Video Editors ($67,250) An artist eye is critical when choosing lighting, special effects and the right lens or angle. Occupational Therapists ($86,280) Arts & crafts projects can improve concentration, functional grasp, fine motor skills and finger strength. Special Effects Artists & Animators ($92,250) Use computer software programs to create realistic animations, graphics, and special effects for video games, television, and movies. Images are sometimes drawn or painted by hand before producing a computer likeness. Design Architects ($82,320) Need a sense of artistry to come up with impressive structural designs that are safe, structurally sound and aesthetically pleasing.

ART is a VIABLE FIELD of STUDY.

Our student artists' hard work has paid off in awards and recognitions. The Scholastic Regional Art and Writing Awards: Silver Key winners Stephanie Cabrera, Maya Crawford, and Azaria Williams. Honorable Mention Awards Alex Botero, Solonia Deoto, Jessica Dunn, Lillian Paulitz. 37th Annual ArtiGras Fine Art Festival & 2022 Youth Art Competition winners: Honorable Mentions grade 10 Isabella Sanchez-Vizcaino and grade 12 Sarah Lyse Exume and First Place grade 11 Stephanie Cabrera. Accepted into the prestigious "Drawing Transformed" Student Art Exhibit at Chris & Bernard Marden Community Gallery at the Norton Museum of Art were: Stephanie Cabrera, Bianca Faure, Marlena Hutchinson and Ocean Lewis.

The 9th Annual Wellington Chalk Art Festival took place on February 11 with over 90 student chalk artists creating amazing art works around the campus. People's Choice Award went to Elisa Rodriguez, Stephanie Rodriguez, and Marcey Thomas, Best of Show was Cristina Toleda Garcia, First Place Azaria Williams & Camila Arias, Second Place Stephanie Cabrera, and Honorable Mention Awards to Katarina Iannucci, Haylie Wiles & Samia Bensaddik, Josie Baltazar & Julie-Anne Nunes.
